COURT SENSATION

ADAMANT WITNESS SENTENCED.

FINALLY WARNED.

The point that evidence given in a Court of Justice must be in accordance with "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," and "without fear or favour," was stressed by a dramatic interlude in this morning's proceedings in connection with the trial of Au Kim-lui and Lam Fook-yu on charges of conspiracy to defraud the Wing On Bank of a sum of $50,000. Since the commencement of the trial, evidence of a sensational character had been given by officials of the Bank admitting that they had been instructed by their employers to withhold certain details concerning alleged similar forgeries that had been previously perpetrated on the Bank.

SHARP REBUKE.

During yesterday afternoon's hearing of the case, on account of the attitude adopted by another witness from the Bank, the Chief Justice had occasion to administer a sharp rebuke, stating that the trouble with the witness appeared to be not the telling of the truth, but that he tried to see what the effect of what he said would be, and warning witness that the next time he gave evidence he was to tell the truth and think less of pleasing his employers.

PRISON SENTENCE, LATER REVOKED.

To-day his Lordship, in dealing with a hesitating witness, took a sterner measure in summarily sentencing the man to fourteen days' imprisonment for refusing to reply to a question put by cross-examining counsel. Later, his Lordship intimated that he would not enforce the order of imprisonment on this occasion; but he desired it to be clearly understood that when evidence was called from a witness in the Court, he was to give it, and not withhold it because he had been instructed to do so by employers.

Tam Lay, 26, said to be employed by the second defendant, Lam Fook-yu, at the dates material to the case, but now an apprentice fitter at the Naval Yard, had been put into the box by prosecuting counsel (Mr. F. C. Jenkin) and questioned in regard to his handling of certain cheques which, it is alleged, the forger on the Banks was attempting to cash.

WORKED IN CANTON.

He said that, introduced by a clansman, he was employed by the second defendant in a capacity combining the offices of a body-servant and shop-assistant at the latter's printing shop, "Chung Wa," at Taisan Street, in Canton. That was to say that when he was not sweeping the floor and attending to the personal wants of the second defendant, he did work in the printing office, and in that employment he was retained between the end of October, 1922, and the 8th of June, 1923.

THE ALLEGED FORGED CHOPS.

One day he was handed a bundle of papers corresponding to an exhibit produced in Court, to give to the second defendant, who was at the time in his living room on the shop premises.

Mr. Jenkin:—Did they make chops at the Chung Wah shop?

Witness:—No.

Whilst you were in the second defendant's employ did you have anything to do with chops?—He gave me, one day, two dollars to bring back three chops from a shop in Chin Shi Street. I took and handed them to him in his room. Before doing so I observed that one of the chops was enclosed, the two others were long and oblong, in shape, with fancy decoration work on the border, and the third was

SINGAPORE SHOOTING INCIDENTS.

ARE DETECTIVES PAID ENOUGH?

POINTED COMMENT.

The shooting incidents in one week have, says the Telegraph's Singapore correspondent moved a local editor to exclaim that "these simple records from the daily crime sheet of Singapore look like extracts from columns of some Backwoods Gazette in the Wild West seventy years ago," and as usual, the Governor is asked what he is going to do about it.

The editorial analogy is not an exaggerated one, for in one case a riyal gang of Cantonese indulged in a revolver duel in a crowded street and wounded five passers-by, while a few days later European police officers were fired on when raiding the headquarters of a notorious gang. The gunman is getting uncomfortably assertive in Singapore nowadays, and there are enough firearms circulating in the underworld to hold up the whole city if the owners of them could settle their quarrels and act in concert.

One reason for the recrudescence of violent crime is said to be official nigardliness in the matter of rewards. The native detective is usually a pretty tough character himself, and is capable of extraordinarily good work, but these Secret Society men are the big game of Chinatown, and the Asiatic detectives will not go after them unless they are well paid for the risks they take. Similarly, secret intelligence is mainly a matter of money, and the most successful police officers in Singapore have been those who have treated their informers most generously. But our present Inspector-General of Police is said to cut down rewards on the ground that gunmen are all in the day's work, and that the sense of duty should be a sufficiently strong incentive to the detective to capture them. He is now beginning to see the fruits of that policy.

APPEAL TO CANTON.

HUNAN FEARS WU PEI-FU'S ATTACK.

It is reported in Canton that urgent telegrams from Tang Sang-cho of Hunan have been received by the Government, requesting the "immediate despatch of assistance," as Wu Pei-fu has already named General Yip Hoi-kum, the strongest opposing general of Tang Sang-cho to be the Governor of Hunan, and is preparing an expedition against that province. The composition of this Army is said to be one Division of Hupei troops and one Division of General Yip Hoi-kum's forces, together with the unit under General Ma Chai, totalling 25,000 strong.

It is said that Wu Pei-fu has declared that he will not proceed to Peking until all the South Western Provinces are brought under control. The first objective will be Hunan, in co-operation with Kiangsi and Yunnan forces, and the second objective will be Kwangtung.

JUDGE ORDERS SALE.

Judge Wilkerson, of the Federal Court, has ordered the foreclosure and sale of the Chicago-Milwaukee-St. Paul Railway, whose affairs are already in the hands of a receiver.

CLAN FIGHT.

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE KILLED.

JOB FOR TROOPS.

A report from Pa-Kong states that a big clan feud which for some years past has not been so much in evidence as formerly, has again broken out. This time the fight between the two clans is of a severity not previously known in this part of the province, as will be seen from the following report of the Commandant who has been ordered, with his battalion, to suppress the movement:

"It was on the 15th April that the clan fight commenced, and on the same day the 2nd Battalion of the 22nd Regiment of the 3rd Army Corps received orders to proceed to Pa Kong without delay. On the following morning, the 2nd Battalion embarked on native junks from Ching Yuen, and arrived at the Pa Kong railway station at about nightfall. Owing to the inundation of this part of the country, which prevented the troops from proceeding to the scene of the conflict, the Battalion was ordered to encamp on a hill-side for the night. Here the inhabitants informed us, that an all-day battle was fought on the previous day, in which the village of Pa Mow Kong was completely burnt to the ground, with hundreds of casualties. From our encampment, smoke and occasional bursts of flame showed that the fire was still burning. On the following morning, the order to march on to Yuen Tam was given. We arrived in the afternoon of the same day, and the village of Chong Fa Wai was reported to have been burnt on that day. Proclamations were at once posted up at all prominent places ordering the fight to cease at once, and representatives of the conflicting parties to appear at the headquarters of the troops to effect a settlement. On the 18th instant, the Political Agent and the staff of the Propaganda Bureau, set to work to effect mediation between the two parties. On the way to their mission, large parties of men, women and children were seen fleeing from fire and sword to shelter elsewhere. The mission brought no fruitful results, and the conflict has now grown to such proportions that it has been found necessary to employ superior forces to suppress it. Consequently, urgent telegrams were sent to the headquarters of the 3rd Army Corps to despatch at least two regiments to cope with the situation, as large bands of brigands have joined in on both sides, and the sackings and burning of villages are constantly reported, so that within one week, the result of these clan fights is reported to be hundreds of people killed and wounded, thousands of houses burnt and several lakhs of dollars worth of properties destroyed. It is said that the disastrous result of these clan fights far exceeds that of the severest battle fought in the recent East River campaign."

THE COAL CRISIS.

A THREE-PARTY MEETING.

London, April 27.
After several days of intensive conferences, in which the Premier has been most active, the mine-owners intimated their willingness to participate in an open tri-party meeting, at which they will not impose any limitation regarding the hours of production. After this announcement, the three parties

CURBING SINGAPORE SHYLOCKS.

DOES MONEYLENDERS' ACT APPLY?

DECISION PROBABLE.

Those who follow the ancient profession of usury in this Colony (says the Telegraph's Singapore correspondent) must have been considerably alarmed by a decision which took place in the Court of Appeal a few days ago. The question arose of whether the Moneylenders' Act applied here, and it seems probable that their Lordships will allow the matter to be fully argued before them and deliver a written judgment which will settle this long-outstanding question once and for all. As the law stands at present, a man must pay a moneylender the rate of interest stipulated in the promissory note, no matter whether that interest be a thousand per cent, and the lender can enforce payment in the courts. The consequence is that exorbitant rates are charged in the Colony, and the only limit to the greed of the worst type of moneylender is the capacity of his victim to pay.

FEWER UNEMPLOYED.

Now Below A Million.

London, April 27.
The total number of unemployed on April 19, recorded at the Labour Exchanges in Britain, was 997,000. This is the first time in several years that the figures have dropped below a million.—Reuter.

quence is that exorbitant rates are charged in the Colony, and the only limit to the greed of the worst type of moneylender is the capacity of his victim to pay.

Cases repeatedly come up in the Bankruptcy Courts where Chinese clerk and persons of that class have paid their original debt three times over, and are more hopelessly involved than ever. The interest on the loan having been so impossible that they have paid one creditor by borrowing from others—a course which inevitably leads to the office of the Official Assignee. An attempt was made some years ago to introduce the safeguards embodied in the Moneylenders' Act into the Colony, but it met with considerable opposition, and was dropped. If a debtor had the right to apply to have "harsh and unconscionable transactions" re-opened, and if the judges had power to reduce exorbitant rates of interest, the existence of these safeguards would undoubtedly have a chastening effect upon our Shylocks, but the question which arises is whether the Colony has developed sufficiently to justify the imposition of any restrictions whatever upon capital.

The term moneylender cover the two extremes of the big Indian chieftain firm with immense resources and the humble watchman who waxes rich upon the financial frailties of his fellows; and the facilities of obtaining ready money which they provide would be badly missed, were the Government to yield to popular prejudice and drive the moneylender out of business altogether.

SOLD A BABY.

KIDNAPPER WELL PUNISHED.

How a Chinese, kidnapped a young girl, three years of age, and sold her to a boatwoman for $49 was explained before Mr. R. E. Lindell, at the Central Magistrate's Court this morning, when the man was charged with kidnapping, and with disobeying an order for banishment.

It was explained that the kidnapping affair took place in the Shaikwan district. The defendant lived in the house, when he kidnapped the girl and sold her to a Mongkok boatwoman. Mr. Lindell found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to six months' hard labour, and fifteen strokes with the cane.

BETTING TAX.

STRONG OPPOSITION AROUSED.

GENERAL OUTCRY.

London, April 27.
In the House of Commons to-day, it was Opposition Day in connection with the Budget, and this was taken full advantage of. Mr. Snowden accusing Mr. Winston Churchill of increasing the national expenditure by £30,000,000 in eighteen months and making an outrageous settlement with Italy, simply in order to get £4,000,000 to include in the present Budget. The Government was undoubtedly in the grip of banks and financial Houses, while Mr. Churchill's statement regarding the silk duties was sheer humbug. The ex-Chancellor was most-seething as regards the betting tax, which he said was an outrage to the most sacred feelings of a vast number of people and which would lead to collusion between bookies and bookmakers. He recalled that he described last year's Budget as a rich man's Budget, but this year it was the Budget of the profligate and bankrupt.—(Loud Labour cheers).

LIBERAL PROTEST.

Sir John Simon's criticism was milder. He thought that the betting tax could be regarded as an imprudent or a form of excitement which had wrought havoc in homes when indulged in excessively. Moreover, the tax would encourage illegal forms of betting. Sir John Simon warmly repudiated the Chancellor's competence to give a ten year's guarantee of Imperial Preference.—Reuter.

OUTCRY AGAINST BETTING TAX.

London, April 27.
The betting tax promises to be the most controversial feature of the Budget. It is opposed by the churches and the bookmakers from different angles, while the Conservatives are divided—one section opposing the tax on moral grounds and another section demanding the legalisation of betting.

Prominent racing men and bookmakers at Newmarket are doubtful as regards the yield of the tax and predict that it will be almost unworkable. The Director of a big London firm of Commission Agents said that the tax which will mean that the betting public will lose three times as much as at present. He estimated that the bookmakers will have to increase their staff by 50 per cent.

Lord Lonsdale has expressed the opinion that the scheme cannot satisfactorily be completed unless it included street betting and football betting, and that the Chancellor would soon realise that the revenue was not worth the cost of collection.

The Bookmakers and Backers' Racecourse Protection Association, is considering the convocation of protest meetings.

Miss Wilkinson, a Member of the House of Commons, said that the women of the country would strongly oppose such a retrograde moral step.

The Revd. Henry Carter has said that the tax will be fought most determinedly by the Wesleyan Methodists. The United Council of Christian Churches met to-day to organise demonstrations of protest.—Reuter.

BATHING BEACHES.

TO OPEN ON SATURDAY.

We learn that in connection with the Government's provision of public bathing beaches for the coming Summer, it has been decided to open the beaches at Kowloon, North Point and Kennedy Town on May 1st.

RUSSO-GERMAN TREATY VAGUE.

FEARED INFLUENCE IN LEAGUE.

VARIED INTERPRETATIONS.

London, April 27.
The general impression of the German-Soviet Treaty in official circles in London is that many phrases are vague and indefinite, capable of another interpretation. There does not appear at first sight to be anything objectionable.—Reuter.

BERLIN'S PRESS OPINIONS.

Berlin, April 27.
The newspapers agree that the Treaty does not create any new situation and that the general lines of German foreign policy is unchanged, which fact is regretted by some of the more violent Nationalist journals.—Reuter.

SOVIET ENTERS THE LEAGUE.

Paris, April 27.
The Homme Libre argues, that the Soviet will thus enter the League of Nations in Germany's baggage, as once Germany is a member of the League she will be unable to associate herself with any League decision without being sure of agreeing with Moscow. It concluded that the Soviet joins the League without commitments and responsibilities.—Reuter.

FRANCE STILL UNEASY.

Paris, April 27.
The publication of the text of the Russo-German Treaty has not dispelled concern in French political circles as regards its possible effects on the fabric of Geneva and Locarno. An active exchange of views is proceeding between London and Paris, but there is premature talk of representations being made to Berlin.

The Temps says that Germany wants a reserve option to choose between the western Powers and Soviet Russia when the fateful hour strikes, but it is hardly conceivable that such an attitude can be compatible with Germany's unconditional entry into the League.—Reuter.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE.

HEARING OF EUROPEAN CASE FIXED.

The case in which Mr. S. J. Squire, of the Hongkong Electric Company, is charged with manslaughter, again, came before Major C. Willson at the Central Police Court this morning, when the hearing was fixed for May 4th, at 2.15 p.m.

It will be remembered that as the result of an accident at a tram shelter at Causeway Bay, a Chinese received injuries through, it is alleged, Mr. Squire running into him while riding his motor cycle. The victim died in hospital shortly afterwards on the same night.

Mr. J. A. Gordon Leask, who is defending, asked if it was likely that any enquiry would be held into the death of the Chinese, and Major Willson replied he did not think there would be any such enquiry.

SARAWAK VISIT.

MR. HARVEY FIRESTONE IN BORNEO.

STRAITS RUMOURS.

Singapore has been looking forward with some interest (says the Telegraph's correspondent) to the visit of Mr. Harvey Firestone, junior, in the hope that the son of the American rubber magnate would tell us more about his plans for breaking the "British rubber monopoly." Mr. Firestone arrived from Manila this week, but he evaded the reporters rather neatly, transshipping on to a local steamer and sailing for Sarawak within two hours of his arrival. In order to execute this procedure, the compliance of the local authorities was necessary, because although our distinguished visitor did not actually land in the port, he came within its jurisdiction, and in the ordinary course would have had to register himself as an alien and observe certain other formalities. However, the departments concerned went out of their way to be nice to him, and all difficulties in the way of his catching his connection for Sarawak were removed.

Since the name of Firestone is not too popular in British Malaya it was inevitable that some malcontent should raise his voice against the consideration shown to our visitor, though this was the merest politeness to an important figure in the rubber world, and the representative of one of Malaya's largest customers. It happened, however, that on the same day an offensive Russian resident of Singapore chanced to go over to the capital of a native State, and since this little town is only sixteen miles away, he was unnaturally assumed that it was within the Colony, and failed to notify the authorities at Singapore of his intended journey. He was promptly hauled up before a magistrate and fined, and correspondents in the press have been asking why Mr. Firestone's path should be so assiduously smoothed when our Russian friend suffers the full rigour of the law for violating the same regulations. It is scarcely necessary to say that Mr. Firestone will be given every facility for seeing all that he wants to see of the Peninsula, and the more coals of fire we can heap upon his anti-revolutionist pate, the better we shall like it.

WANTING IN SARAWAK.

An enterprising pressman who boarded Mr. Firestone's vessel about three minutes before he sailed, met with a somewhat frigid reception, and the curiosity of the public as to what Mr. Firestone is going to do in Sarawak, when he is coming back to Singapore, what he is going to do in Malaya, and how many million dollars gold he is going to invest in the Dutch Indies remain unsatisfied. However, he will return to Singapore, and perhaps he may prove more talkative when tackled in a less breathless manner; he has talked freely to the newspapers in Japan and in the Philippines, and it is scarcely sporting to develop this taciturnity in the city in which the rubber issue originated.

This is hostile territory for members of the Firestone and Hoover camp, and if Harvey has seen any of the fulminations of the local press in the last six months, his reluctance to be interviewed is not difficult to explain. In the meantime, he is far from the illings and arrows of restriction champions in Sarawak, and the interesting question is what he is doing there. This independent State on the north coast of Borneo is owned and ruled by the Brooke family, who have always pushed their policy of isolation just as far as they could.

THEOSOPHY

"RELIGION"

will be the subject of this week's public lecture of the Hongkong Lodge The Theosophical Society, 7, Duddell Street, on Thursday April 28th at 6 p.m. The Meeting is open to the public.

MERCHANTS $10,000.

DEFENDANT ALLEGES HE WAS THRASHED.

Allegations that he was ill-treated by the Police were made at the Central Magistracy yesterday by the Chinese charged in connection with the theft of over $10,000 from a Canton merchant in a local hotel. The defendant in the case, Man Ting, is charged with stealing $10,600 from Tong Pak-oi, at the Great Eastern Hotel, on April 16.

At a previous hearing evidence was given of the theft, and yesterday Mr. D. Mc Cullum, who defended, recalled a friend of the complainant who had given evidence at the previous hearing. Mr. Mc Cullum:—Did you suggest to the defendant that the complainant would withdraw the case if the money was paid back to him?

Witness:—Yes. And because of that he had better tell you where the money could be found?—He did not tell me where the money was.

Were you present when the complainant had an interview with the defendant?—Yes.

Complainant's Promise.

In reply to further question witness said that the complainant told defendant that there would be no prosecution if he said where the money was.

Mr. Mc Cullum: Did he complain that he had been ill-treated by the police?

Witness: Yes. He said he had been thrashed.

The complainant was recalled, and cross-examined by Mr. Mc Cullum, said that he had an interview with the defendant while the man was in police custody, and promised him that if he would say where the money was he would have the case withdrawn.

In reply to further questions witness said that he merely suggested that because he wanted to find out where the money was.

Mr. Mc Cullum: Why did the police allow you to visit the man on your initiative and get information like that out of him?

Witness: Just to get a clue. They did not suggest to you that you might hold out the bait that the case would be withdrawn?—No.

The Money Discovered.

Another witness, a sister of defendant, explained that defendant came to her house with the money and said he would leave it there. She took it to her brother-in-law, and when the police visited her, she took them to her brother-in-law's house. They waited some time, and then broke open a box and found the money inside.

Evidence of arrest was also given, and it was proved that complainant had had a sum of $10,600 in his possession.

The statement made by the defendant when he was charged was read. He said that he went into the room to wake the complainant, but failed to do so. He took a cigarette from his pocket and found his purse. He also found the money inside and took it away. He tried to wake the man again, and failed.

Objection to Evidence.

Mr. Mc Cullum said it was quite obvious that both threats and promises had been made to the defendant. He raised objection to the evidence which had been admitted, and said there was not a tittle of evidence outside the confession. The man was charged and warned for the first time presumably on the Monday, in spite of the fact that he had been in custody since the previous Friday night.

SOVIET AFFAIRS.

GOVERNMENT'S POLICY APPROVED.

Moscow, April 27. The Soviet Central Executive Committee has concluded a fortnight's session by unanimously adopting a resolution on Litvinoff's report, fully approving the Government's foreign policy; and has also adopted the law reforming agricultural taxation, and ratification of the Soviet Budget, which showed an estimated revenue of 4,039 million roubles, being an increase compared with the original estimates. The estimated expenditure is 3,922 million, also an increase. Reuter.

HONGKONG YARN MARKET. MESSRS. POLISHWALLA AND KOTWALL'S REPORT.

Since we last reported on the condition of our Local Market, prices have continued to decline, but on the other hand a small demand set in during the period under review. This, however, was confined to a few favourite Chops of 10's and 12's suitable for the Yunnan Market. Nevertheless deliveries have not been very encouraging, though importers have felt relieved somewhat to have been able to effect a few sales.

Bombay.—Quotations there are lower all round. Total sales are hardly 2,500 bales all told. Un-sold stock 7,900 bales. Bargain in Chinese hands 3,000 bales. Shanghai.—Reports from this market indicate an advance in prices and some activity.

Japanese Yarn.—Prices have kept steady and small sales have been effected.

Raw Cotton.—No stock.

FIRESTONE RUBBER INTERESTS.

SARAWAK CONCESSION RUMOUR DENIED.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Singapore, April 27.

The Sarawak Government officially denies strong rumours of a large concession to the Firestone interests in Sarawak.

In evidence, defendant said he was with the complainant in the Great Eastern Hotel, and he spoke to him about the careless way he was handling his money in the presence of a strange girl. He took the money from complainant's pocket so that it would be in safe keeping.

When he was taken to the Police Station he did not admit taking the money because he was unaware of Hongkong laws. If he had been in Canton and had admitted it, he would have been shot.

Alleged Thrashing.

He alleged that after he had been examined by the Police he was beaten by a Chinese policeman, and then taken back to his cell. He said he was badly thrashed. At that time he wanted to tell the complainant what had happened, but he was unable to see him.

Mr. Mc Cullum said he did not want to comment severely on the way the case had been taken, although he could comment extraordinarily severely. He left it to the Magistrate's discretion, and asked for the man's prompt release.

Major Willson said he found the man guilty, and sentenced him to four months' hard labour.

Mr. Mc Cullum asked if his Worship would state a case on the admissibility of the evidence, as failing that it would be necessary to lodge an appeal, and that was costly. His Worship intimated that he would consider the matter.

SHANGHAI COUNCIL.

RATEPAYERS' DECISION SENT TO PEKING.

The Shanghai Municipal Council has forwarded to the Doyen of the Consular Body the text of resolution VI, passed at Wednesday's annual meeting of ratepayers, expressing the desirability of admitting three Chinese members to the Council. A covering letter expresses the Council's request that the Consular Body forward the resolution to the Diplomatic Corps in Peking so that the matter can be regularized and the ratepayers' wishes carried into effect.

The text of the resolution, which is of historic importance, reads:— "That in the opinion of this meeting the participation of Chinese residents in the government of the Settlement is desirable, and that the Council be hereby authorized and instructed to make forthwith representations to the powers concerned with a view to securing the addition of three Chinese Members at an early date.

How the terms of the resolution will be fulfilled is not known at present, but details will be arranged after diplomatic assent has been given to it. Nevertheless, there is no abatement of the Chinese feeling of opposition to the resolution. As a result of the meeting held by the Chinese Ratepayers' Association, a committee is busy drafting up the declaration of opposition decided upon at the meeting.

According to the Chinese newspapers, which reflect this opposition, a representative of the National Students' Union called on the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce to obtain an expression of the Chamber's view on the question, and was informed that the Chamber intends to appoint a delegate to go with delegates appointed by other associations and register a protest with the Foreign Office at Peking.

SERIOUS RUSSIAN FLOODS.

VOLGA FIFTY FEET ABOVE NORMAL.

Moscow, April 27.

The river Volga and its upper tributaries have overflowed their banks. The river Klazma has flooded the town of Orekhovo, 45 miles east of Moscow. Eight persons have been drowned; eleven bridges destroyed and many textile mills idled. Loss of life is also reported from Rybinsk, where the Volga is fifty feet above its usual level.

Scores of villages are flooded and inhabitants have taken refuge on the roofs. Detachments of the Red Army are blowing up ice jams in the rivers, in order that the waters may flow their natural course.—Reuter.

JAZZ A CRIME.

"INVENTED TO MAKE SLAVERY TOLERABLE."

"Jazz is degrading in that it tends to lower the white races to the level of the lesser breeds mentioned by Rudyard Kipling. The jazzists may take it for granted that their number is up. The above statement was made by Dr. Henry Coward, conductor of the famous Sheffield Choir, at a meeting of the local Rotary Club. There have been strong passages at arms between Dr. Coward and Mr. Jack Hylton, an exponent of jazz music, on the merits and demerits of jazz, and the controversy has aroused keen interest.

"I have been to the performances under the promise of hearing good jazz," said Dr. Coward. "At the first I heard deplorable jazz; but at the second deplorable jazz. It was as though the features of the theme were distorted by a hideous make-up and wig. The trumpet flared away with quacking blare and with frequent, spasmodic rushes which sounded like the tearing of calico. The saxophones hooted, but at times suggested the mooing of a cow.

"To me the whole was hideous, a sacrilege, a crime. It was as though an actor was reciting Shakespeare and putting in smart gags such as 'To be or not to be.' (Have you any bananas?) 'That is the question.' (None to-day.)

"The whole performance illustrated to perfection the lines:— 'A synecopated orchestra is good at killing time.

Or turning into balderdash a symphony sublime." "The trombone," continued Dr. Coward, "is a noble instrument if played in a legitimate manner, but when made to bray, and guffaw, to represent a laughing jackass, it raises a vacant laugh once or twice, and then its coarseness is revealed. Jazz is blatant, grotesque and boisterous."

TO MAKE SLAVERY TOLERABLE.

"What of the genesis of jazz?" asked Dr. Coward. "To make slavery a bit tolerable the slave owners at certain intervals encouraged orgies in which semi-barbaric music played a great part.

"This was well known, and the low negro plantation music, with its twanging banjo, bones, and clanging pans, was taboo amongst the whites, unless they were personating negroes.

"Recently, however, rich American decadents, looking out for something novel, introduced this sort of thing, dressing it up in its best attire. Having had sad experience of its tendency, we can now say that it is time to put the brake on."

The Sheffield Choir celebrates its jubilee on March 24, when Dr. Coward, founder of the choir, will receive the freedom of the city of Sheffield.

NEW BISHOPRIC REFUSED.

LORDS REJECT PROPOSED SHREWSBURY SEE.

Many exclamations of surprise were heard in the House of Lords on a recent evening when the resolution asking the King to give the Royal Assent to the Bishopric of Shrewsbury measure was defeated by 61 votes to 60.

Moving the resolution, the Bishop of Manchester said the measure created a new See of Shrewsbury by taking portions of the Sees of Hereford and Lichfield. It was the last of a series of such measures recommended to the Church Assembly by the New Sees Committee, of which he was Chairman.

The opposition came only from the County of Hereford.

Lord Forester, on behalf of the diocese of Hereford, moved the rejection. That diocese had existed in its present form for 1,250 years, and some cogent reason should be given before it was broken up. They were merely told that it was for more efficient Church work.

SMALL AND EFFICIENT.

A former Bishop of Hereford, Mr. Henson, Bishop of Durham, said Hereford was one of the smallest dioceses in England and a very efficient one. He opposed the measure.

Support came from the Archbishop of Canterbury, and from the Bishops of Hereford and Lichfield, whose dioceses would be reduced by the proposal, but the House, as stated above, rejected the measure.

FABULOUS FORTUNE.

BERLIN STORY OF EX-KAISER.

Berlin, March 20.—In ideal weather the polling in favour of the confiscation, without compensation, of properties of the deposed dynasties goes on.

Lorries crammed with singing Republicans, many of them flaunting red flags, sweep through the streets calling on all voters to do their duty and "repulse the Hohenzollerns and their grab-all ways."

Streets are placarded with violent anti-Hohenzollern posters. Newspapers of the Communists, Socialists and Democrats are raking up the annals of the German dynasties for incidents to discredit the German Monarchical system.

The old story of the sale by German princes of it Hessian peasants to fight in British armies is being worn threadbare.

Tales of a more modern flavour include a Berlin yarn of the ex-Kaiser having recently amassed a fortune by speculating in a ruble.

NEW BIRD SANCTUARY.

NORFOLK HAUNT OF RARE MIGRANTS.

It will be a source of great satisfaction to all who are interested in the preservation of our rarer nesting British birds that the Cley Marshes, on the north Norfolk coast, have been purchased by a few ornithologists, who prefer to remain anonymous, with the object of securing the property for all time as a bird-nesting sanctuary. To this 407 acres of partially inundated marshland, ducks and waders of many species have resorted for nesting purposes since the breach in the defensive concrete sea wall which resulted from the memorable high tide of December 31, 1921, flooded the area and transformed it into the ideal breeding and feeding ground that it now is. For several generations the property has been owned by the Cozens-Hardy family, and the late Mr. A. W. Cozens-Hardy, by whose executors the marshes have just been sold, kept them as undisturbed as possible during the breeding season and enjoyed first-rate duck-shooting on them in the winter.

During every year such rarities as the soon-bill black tern, ruff avocet, and other rare waders arrive as passing migrants, and it is hoped, and indeed is probable, that under the strict protection from all disturbing influences these birds will henceforth receive throughout the breeding season, some of them, at any rate, will remain and nest on the area. It is not more than 100 years ago when the avocet nested on the adjoining Salhouse Broad, separated from the marshes by a sea bank only; and as recently as 1922 a reeve's nest, containing four eggs, was found on the marsh. This is one of the strongholds of that most handsome of all the ducks, the shelduck; and within the past week the writer found that already 12 pairs of these birds had returned to begin prospecting for nesting sites. In 1923 that most uncertain of all the terns, the Sandwich tern unexpectedly arrived and nested in considerable numbers. In fact, 180 nests were counted, and in addition, over 100 nests of the common tern were found on an adjacent area of the marsh.

As a winter duck-shoot the marshes must be unrivalled in this country, and although the primary object of the purchasers has been to secure the ground as a strictly preserved area throughout the whole of the nesting season—that is from early spring to late autumn—there is no valid reason why their intention should be frustrated by the marshes being let for the winter shooting. In fact, such an arrangement has already been made, and indeed is necessary as a means of helping to raise money to meet the expenses of upkeep.

Sentimentalists may deplore this policy, but experience gained at Hickling and on some of the Dutch meres proves that this shooting in no way acts detrimentally to the regular spring return of the nesting birds.—Observer.

EARLY MOTORING.

HOW LORD DEWAR CRASHED IN TRAFALGAR SQUARE.

Lord Dewar gave a humorous account of his experiences with one of the earliest motor-cars, when handing over the Dewar Trophy for the best performance of the year, to the Rover Motor Co. at the Royal Automobile Club recently.

One of this company's standard cars, in a Royal Automobile Club certified trial, climbed the famous North Wales mountain pass Bwlch-y-Groes 50 times consecutively in 12 hours.

Those, he said, who, like himself, were getting mellowed—Lord Dewar is 62—could well remember the historic first run of motors to Brighton, the day after legislation abolished red flag from the roads.

Three days later he purchased one of the cars that actually arrived at Brighton, and engaged as driver a man who was performing on a motor-car at the Alhambra.

On their first drive they got into Trafalgar-square, where one of the old bus drivers deliberately ran into the car, amid loud cheers from other busmen, and smashed three of the wooden spokes of one of the wheels.

A SELF-SUPPORTING CAR. It would have been futile to ask the bus driver's name and address, for at that time it was doubtful if a jury would convict any individual who shot at sight a man sitting on a motor-car.

Afterwards he handed the car over to one of his business representatives. As it went on its rounds, whether by the engine or by the assistance of a horse, it was always accompanied by a considerable crowd.

It became popular with licensed victuallers, for when a crowd surrounded it outside a house where light refreshments could be obtained, a fair number used to go inside to discuss the monotony.

Although that car was not self-starting, it was certainly self-supporting.

Lord Dewar then treated the company to some of his famous epigrams—

"Most men did not wake-up to find themselves famous; they usually dreamed they were famous, then woke up."

Avoid the beginner who drives with one hand on the wheel between accidents, all Sunday.

Avoid the pessimist—his wheel of fortune always suffers from a punctured tyre.

A man like a match to see if his petrol tank was empty—it wasn't. Aged 65.

To possess a motor-car to-day has become a habit. The world is governed by customs and habits.

From the force of habit some men try to blow froth from the top of a glass of water. A retired dairy man said from force of habit he never could see a bucket of water without feeling an irresistible desire to put some milk in it.

ANCIENT STATUE.

RELIC OF FIFTH CENTURY.

Rome, March 11.—Excavations in the Street of Abundance in Pompeii have brought to light a bronze statue believed to be one of the best examples of Greek workmanship of the Phidian school of approximately the fifth century B.C.

The bronze, which was intact, is a life-size figure of a youth or perhaps of Apollo. It stands on a circular base. Near by were found candelabra which probably were held in the statue's upraised hand.

The statue is believed to have been destined as a decoration for a rich Pompeian's house, but it had not been placed there at the time of the eruption, being lodged in store room. It was entirely unbedded in volcanic ashes, which acted as a preservative.

The gold leaf decoration can still be traced, and the lava only slightly damaged one leg by roughening the surface.

The statue will be conditioned and taken to the Museum of Naples where it will be put in a place of honour among the choice examples of antiquity.

Archaeologists declare the antique patina to be marvellously preserved and that the sculpture compares favourably with the work of the best artists of the pre-Latin period. Excavations work has been redoubled in the district in the hope of finding more art treasures.

THE NAVY LEAGUE.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HONGKONG BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Navy League (Hongkong branch) was held at the City Hall yesterday, when Sir Henry Pollock presided in the absence on leave of the Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak.

Sir Henry Pollock said that for reasons of which the members were well aware, the Flag Day was not held on Nelson Day last year, but they were in hopes that by October this year the situation would have cleared sufficiently to allow them to hold the flag day as before.

It was suggested that the day should be held in aid of the dependents of those who lost their lives in the war. Sir Henry mentioned the work of the League during the past year, and said that on the last flag day they succeeded in collecting a considerable sum.

He read a letter from Rear Admiral Sir Edward Freemantle appealing for assistance for the Nelson Day Fund, and mentioned that Sir Edward would be remembered by the older residents in the Colony as he was at one time attached to this naval station. Sir Henry said he was sure the appeal would receive the careful attention of the in-coming committee, and that they would assist to the fullest extent they were able.

Financial Position.

Dealing with the accounts, Sir Henry said the balance in hand this year, of $747.24 was greater than the balance brought forward from last year, $642.54. He was pleased to be able to state that since the balance sheet had been made out, a sum of about $200 had been collected by the Honorary Treasurer. He said members would notice that their local branch in Amoy had raised £1,450, in aid of the "Implacable" Fund, and that this was gratefully acknowledged by Sir Vincent Baddeley.

At a later stage in the meeting Sir Henry Pollock said that the Honorary Secretary had obtained a series of lantern slides from Home, and these dealt mainly with naval matters. There was also a covering letterpress.

Lecture to be Held.

He suggested that during the coming year they might secure a lantern and have an illustrated lecture on both sides of the harbour. Perhaps the Central British School might be utilised for the purpose in Kowloon, and some convenient hall, probably the Heung May Institute, be used on the island. He thought the fullest use should be made of the slides.

Sir Henry Pollock was elected president, and Mr. W. A. Dowsley vice-president. Mr. L. M. Whyte was re-elected hon. secretary and Mr. A. S. Excell hon. treasurer. The following committee was also appointed—Commodore A. J. B. Stirling, C. B., Messrs. R. Sutherland, F. A. Perry, J. H. R. Hance, L. M. Whyte and A. S. Excell.

THE MEXICAN OUTRAGE.

DECISION ADVERSE TO AMERICA.

Mexico City, April 27. The neutral chairman of Mexican delegates on the American-Mexican Claims Commission has signed and issued their decision, to the effect that the United States is not entitled to damages for the massacre of fifteen Americans at Santa Ysabel, Mexico, in 1916.

The American delegate declared the decision illegal, and does not bind the United States.—Reuter's American Service.

CLAIM AGAINST A SOLICITOR.

REFUSAL TO PAY EXCESSIVE PRICES.

Messrs. John Little and Co. were plaintiffs in a rather remarkable action which occupied the attention of Mr. Justice Deane in the Supreme Court, Singapore, on the 20th inst., the defendant being Mr. Aubrey V. L. Davies, an advocate and solicitor. The claim was for $548 in respect of goods sold and delivered, the defendant in his pleadings denying liability and stating that if any of the goods were sold and delivered the prices charged were excessive. The plaintiffs were represented by Mr. J. C. Cobbett and Mr. Davies conducted his own case.

Mr. Cobbett, referring to the correspondence, read a letter written by the defendant in which he stated that the account seemed to an evening wrap for which $32.60 had been charged, whereas he was advised that its value was $20. Bottles of whiskey had been overcharged in nearly every case and $11.44 had been charged for 2 tins of cigarettes. Mr. Cobbett stated that that was a clerical error; 12 tins of cigarettes were supplied. In another letter, defendant stated that the prices charged for every item were excessive.

The account commenced in December 1923, Mr. Cobbett stated, and finished in November 1925. During the period, by various monthly payments, defendant paid $1,160, which left a balance of $548.17 due from the defendant. Plaintiffs' case, of course, was that they had sold and delivered these goods. The onus of proving that, counsel said, would be very much lightened by the evidence as to the manner in which the defendant had treated the plaintiffs. While there was a duty on the vendor to keep proper books of account, the buyer could not sit tight and go on receiving goods and paying for them bit by bit and years later come to Court and say either that he had never had the goods or that somebody else bought them or that the price was excessive. As to the question of excessive price, that was a matter which defendant must prove; it was not for plaintiffs to prove that their prices were reasonable. All they had to do was to prove that the prices were those at which the same goods were sold to other people.

WAR DEBTS.

FRENCH DISCUSSIONS WITH AMERICA.

Washington, April 26.

The Debt Commission has decided that France must revise her debt offer, but it is emphasized that the latest discussions have not terminated.

A correspondent adds that one of the chief hitches is how much France pays at the outset. The Commission is firmly against the "safety clause" whereby France is relieved of debt responsibilities in the event of Germany's failure to meet reparations payments. M. Berenger is not expected to insist on the clause.—Reuter's American Service.

Owing to a dispute, Devon County Council is to adopt a coat of arms that will not infringe upon the arms of the ancient Cornish borough of Saltash.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

THE WING ON FORGERY CASE.

In the Wing On case, at the Criminal Sessions, yesterday afternoon, the chief cashier of the Company, Kwok Woon-kwan, was questioned by Mr. Zeitlyn.

Further cross-examined witness said the questions put to him in the Magistrate's court were not clear to him. He agreed that he understood the question put to him about the number of outstanding deposit books.

Mr. Zeitlyn: Then didn't you tell the truth on that point?—I didn't understand the law.

Do you say that telling the truth is a matter of law?—No.

Counsel went on to draw attention to differences between witness's statements and those of Kwok Gow-fan, when His Lordship intervened and suggested it was a matter for comment. Witness had given a series of concrete answers and now said he did not understand the questions which were put to him.

Questioned as to procedure when a new depositor wanted to deposit money witness said the assistant cashier asked him for a deposit book. He said he recorded the number at the time but later said he noted it in his head for the time being.

A Ludicrous Answer.

In re-examination witness said the assistant cashier did not tell him a depositor attended at the bank and said he wanted to leave $1,000 in the bank so he could take the book away and change the label.

His Lordship pointed out that was what he had said earlier in the day and asked why he had said it.

Witness replied that the Professor had shown the court the day before the label under light which showed it to have been changed.

His Lordship: That is a ludicrous answer.

Continuing, His Lordship said the trouble with the witness appeared to be not the telling of the truth but in that he tried to see what the effect of what he said would be. He could not say he was a satisfactory witness. Addressing the interpreter he said, Tell him the next time he gives evidence to tell the truth and think less about pleasing his employers.

Bank Witnesses.

Ng King-cheung, a medical practitioner living at 40 Queen's Road West said he knew both prisoners and a man named Fok Cheong-yuen. They had all been in his rooms. He had been consulted by the first prisoner. They had all been on his premises at the same time. The man Fok was arrested at 40 Queen's Road West.

George A. Vos, an assistant in the Yokohama Specie Bank produced a draft issued by his bank on April 25, 1923 in favour of Lai Kam for the sum of $77,829.05. Payment on that order was collected by the Bank of East Asia. The cheque was endorsed "Lai Kam and Man Fat Co."

Ling Man-lai of the Bank of East Asia produced accounts relative to this transaction.

Ching Tai-shun, sub accountant of the Industrial and Commercial Bank produced accounts with regard to the opening of an account in that bank on August 7, 1923 by the Kwong Chow firm and Au Kin-lin, the first defendant. That account was credited and debited with $50,000 on August 13, 1923. The book "Nine" had been presented at his bank and bore the chop of his bank.

At this stage the case was adjourned until this morning.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1926.

BRITAIN'S BUDGET.

The keenly-awaited Budget speech of Mr. Winston Churchill has not disclosed anything very startling. The Home taxpayer is left practically where he was, although there is the very open threat that if there are costly labour troubles further taxation will be necessary. In spite of national economy there is no taxation relief, and, inasmuch as Great Britain is still one of the heaviest taxed countries in the world, there will be a large section of public opinion against the absence of some burdenlessening provisions. Had it not been for the Coal Subsidy credit would have been a slight credit balance on last year's working, but the deficit has to be faced, and it is very uncertain, indeed, whether the £4,000,000 balance which is budgetted for next year will be large enough to meet contingencies. The abolition of the Trade Facilities Act, on the ground that it has exhausted its usefulness, is really a matter of form, because all the "key" industries, for the protection of which it was designed, are now "protected." There will be some quiet smiling at Mr. Churchill's sophistry that foreign manufacturers have paid the import duty on artificial silk and that the country has netted a clear £6,000,000, without making any dearer "the finery of poor working girls," because even Mr. Churchill isn't so foolish as to believe that foreign artificial silk manufacturers have paid that sum of six million without getting anything back for it. The girls and others who have bought goods made of artificial silk have paid the money, and what is obvious is that they could have bought those goods so much cheaper had there been no tax.

We foresee a tremendous hubbub over the proposal to take one-third of the motor taxes from the special Road Fund and divert the money to the general funds of the national exchequer, because motorists will contend that the money raised to pay for the wear and tear of roads should be spent on the upkeep of the roads. The fact that the Road Fund has an accumulated surplus of £19,000,000 only proves that the fund has not been administered freely enough. No one who has had experience of some of the roads in England would dare argue that the standard is high enough, although it is perfectly true that the great main roads of the country are some of the finest in the world. Nearly half of the surplus has now been "grabbed" by the Exchequer to wipe off last year's deficit, and one-third of the future income from motor licences is going to be diverted to general purposes instead of to a special fund. As a sop to the private owner of a car, the taxation on heavy commercial vehicles is going to be increased on the plea that these vehicles do not now pay enough, but that proposal will, we imagine, only add to the chorus of disapproval.

Taking the Budget as a whole, however, the main satisfaction to be gained is on account of the fact that Britain is steadily decreasing her national debt. Seventy-five millions annually for the past six years is an achievement of which the country has every right to be proud, and Mr. Churchill's plea for perseverance in that direction will find a hearty echo in the minds of all who look to the eventual lightening of the taxation burden. Only by paying can the burden of debt be lessened, and it is as well that Britain, as a country, recognises that simple rule.

The Betting Tax.

We are glad to see that a wave of moral protest is developing at Home against the proposal to levy a tax on betting, because we think it is not in line with ideal government to levy a tax on what is an admitted evil, unless the underlying idea of that tax is to bring about a diminution of that evil. We have no objection to a mild "flatter" and we are not posing otherwise, but one of the most-to-be-regretted post-war developments among the people of Great Britain has been the wholesale increase in betting on horse racing and football results. When an individual does not gamble in sums more than he can afford to lose it is hard to rule against him, but that does not alter the fact that gambling is not ideal from the moral point of view. To elevate it to the rank of a source of legitimate revenue for the country is, we think, a wrong proposal. As Sir John Simon puts it, the taxation of betting would be equivalent to an official imprimatur on the practice. As regards the objections of turf men and of bookmakers and backers we are not very much concerned, because it all amounts just to so much special pleading. We are also not in a position to express any opinion as to whether the cost and trouble of collection would be worth the revenue, but we are convinced that to tax betting would be to drive it very much further underground and to breed wholesale law evasion. Judging by the indications already received, it would seem that there is a fairly solid phalanx of opposition (from varying motives) and we hope that the Government will be guided by public opinion and drop what is, at best, a proposal of very doubtful benefit.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[To the Editor of the Hongkong Telegraph.]

STEAMER EXCURSIONS.

Sir,—The one strange fact arising out of the suggestion made by "Invigorating" that steamer excursions would be a boon to residents in the Colony during the heat of the summer, and at the same time provide something for idle river steamers to do, is that no one appears to have thought of it before. For this fact it is easy to pardon the residents themselves, but there appears to have been a deplorable lack of foresight on the part of local companies in the past. Possibly the respective managers house themselves in an ice-chest in the months that count.

To express full accord with "Invigorating's" views would to a large extent be superfluous, for I cannot imagine the likelihood of opposition.—Yours, etc.,

PORTUGUESE CONSUL.

RAISED TO FIRST-CLASS RANK.

The friends of Senhor Cerveira de Albuquerque e Castro, Consul-General for Portugal in Hongkong, and his colleagues in the Consular service will be glad to learn that on the 2nd inst. he was raised by his Government to the position of First Class-Consul-General in the diplomatic service of Portugal. The promotion is a well-deserved one, and Consul-General Albuquerque is to be congratulated on the confidence his Government has reposed in him.

It was in February, 1920, that Senhor Albuquerque proceeded from Kobe to Hongkong, where he has remained ever since, with two short periods of home leave in Lisbon, as representative of Portugal in this Colony. Two years ago, Senhor Albuquerque became the Doyen of the Consular Body in Hongkong, and holds that position at the present time.

It will be learnt with general satisfaction that the Portuguese community in Hongkong will not be losing Senhor Albuquerque's services in the Colony, since in the official announcement of his promotion the gratifying news was conveyed that he will remain as representative of Portugal here.

It will be remembered that Senhor Albuquerque's father, the late General Albuquerque, died last year. The deceased was Secretary-General for the Colonies in Lisbon.

SECRETED OPIUM.

OLD EXCUSE OF NO AVAL.

The discovery of 118 tael of illicit opium, concealed in the false bottom of a box, resulted in a fine of $10,000 being imposed on a Chinese before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Police Court this morning. The value of the opium was $1,416.

The defendant was seen to come off a Macao boat on to the Wing Lok wharf with a box, which was opened and searched. In the box was found a layer of paddy husk, but a further search resulted in the discovery of a false bottom, under which the opium was found.

The defendant said he was looking after the box for a friend, and denied all knowledge of the opium. He added that he came from the Dutch East Indies, and made the acquaintance of the owner of the box at Mongkok. He put his belongings in the box on board the boat, but did not know the opium was there.

Accused was unable to prove his statement, and was told that if he did not pay the fine he would have to go to prison for twelve months.

PORTUGUESE BOAT'S MISHAP.

PICKED UP BY FRENCH GUNBOAT.

We hear, from reliable sources, that the Portuguese steamer Nam Wah, of about 900 tons dead-weight, locally owned by the Sing Fat Co., of Des Voeux Road Central, recently had an accident, not far from Touraine, in French Cochinchina, when she broke her propeller axle. She is said to have been adrift for two days until she was picked up by a French gunboat, and towed to the latter port.

It is stated that the French Government at Saigon originally charged the Sing Fat Co., $60,000 for this service, but reports now to hand state that the authorities have reduced their charges to $30,000. The steamer is reported to be still laid up at Touraine.

The Very Idea!

A teacher in a local school was explaining sentence construction to her pupils. The topic went like this:

"A predicate is an absolute necessity in a sentence, to make it complete. No sentence can be given without a predicate."

An unusually bright boy argued the point with her, claiming that such a thing was possible.

"Very well, then," said the teacher, "give me a sentence without a predicate."

"Thirty days," was the reply.

WING ON CASE.

to read, I also saw that the characters on one of the chops were "Heungkong Wing On Yau Han Kong Sze" (i.e. Hongkong Wing On Company, Limited).

Witness went on to say that he was told by the second defendant that one side of one of the chops was "too large" and was asked to take it back to the shop for alteration. Eventually the second defendant cancelled his instructions saying "That will do."

One day, on being called into the same room, he was asked what he was doing, and, on replying that he was boiling water for tea, was handed a parcel by the second defendant, in which were contained three chops—the same ones he got back from the shop but broken up into pieces. They were not so broken up that he could not distinguish the character on still left intact on one of the pieces.

He was ordered by the second defendant to destroy them by burning in the chetty, which he did.

Mr. C. G. Alabaster (counsel appearing for the second defendant) then rose to take up the cross-examination of the witness.

Counsel:—Who engaged you? (referring to witness being taken into employment at the Naval Yard on the 3rd December, 1925).

Witness:—I went there to see some Kwai and they engaged me. As they were Europeans how could I tell you their names?

What is the number given you at the Naval Yard?

Witness replied that a number plate was given him on his going into the Yard to work and he returned the plate when knocking off.

Mr. Alabaster repeated his question.

Witness:—If I disclose the number to you, I would lose my job.

JUDGE'S ORDER.

His Lordship:—Give the number at once!

Witness:—If I tell your Lordship the number—

His Lordship:—Give the number at once, or I will send you to prison. (To the Interpreter, who used considerable emphasis in his communication of the order to the witness).—Mr. D., don't shout to the man.

Witness:—If your Lordship will guarantee I can return to my job—

His Lordship:—If you don't give me the number I shall send you to prison at once.

Witness:—I will tell your Lordship if you can guarantee—

His Lordship:—You go to prison for a fortnight.

Witness, without further hesitation gave his number as 2711.

Mr. Alabaster was rising to resume his cross-examination, when

Mr. Jenkin asked:—I take it your Lordship, that the order is suspended for the moment.

Mr. Alabaster was understood to reply that he was not concerned with that.

ADVICE TO WITNESSES.

Sir Henry Gollan, in commenting on the attitude of the witness, said:—It seems to me that some people think that when an order is given by somebody else, they can withhold certain information in this Court. I want it to be clearly understood that if I tell a man to answer, he has no right to reply that his employer has told him not to respond.

Witness:—I was afraid that if I could not get back to my present job I should not be able to find a living.

His Lordship:—Tell him to obey my orders.

Witness went on to say that the number plate handed to him when he returned to work in the morning was handed back when he knocked off work in the evening.

Mr. Alabaster:—Do you have your pay card?—We have no pay card in the Naval Yard.

His Lordship:—Is there any dockyard official here?

His Lordship was informed that one was being sent for.

His Lordship (to Inspector Fallon):—What is this nonsense about this number?

Inspector Fallon replied that he thought the witness was one of those casual coolies employed at the Naval Yard who was given a temporary number when they were engaged.

The foreman of the jury, Mr. James Colin Owen, rose to say that he was employed as an assistant at the Rowland Deck Company. He affirmed that there was such a practice at a dockyard of issuing a number to a workman which was returned when the workman left work.

His Lordship asked if there were instructions given to such workmen to keep their numbers secret.

Mr. Owen replied that this seemed to be only a means of keeping the number secret. There was no ground for it.

His Lordship:—It is ridiculous. It seems to be the idea that witnesses are entitled to refuse to answer, or cut their answers to suit instructions. This time I shall not enforce the order, but I want it to be clearly understood that witnesses must answer at once without any nonsense about being forbidden to give information. If necessary I would take very serious steps to make people understand that they are not to reply in this manner.

The cross-examination of the witness was then proceeded with, and witness was questioned if he knew certain workmen and foremen mentioned by name, and stated to be at present employed in witness's department at the Naval Yard.

Witness did not know any of these.

He was next questioned if he knew certain other workmen and printers employed at the Chung Wo Printing shop at the time he said he was employed there. He did not know the men named by counsel.

Mr. Alabaster, in answer to his Lordship, said that his cross-examination was directed with a view to showing that the witness was never at the Chung Wo Printing Shop in Canton at the time he was supposed to have been concerned in the transactions.

Witness was handed photographs of two men and he declared he had never seen them at the Chung Wo shop.

At the conclusion of Tam Lay's evidence, his Lordship said:—I won't send you to prison this time, but you must remember in future that when you are told to do something in this Court you have to do it.

PRINTER CALLED.

Mr. Jenkin said that the evidence for the prosecution was drawing to a conclusion and as the observations of Prof. Shellshear in regard to the two principal exhibits had not been attacked by counsel for the defence, he proposed to tender the master of the printing shop, who was then called.

Mr. Alabaster: On the second occasion on which you gave evidence, you stated that you had discovered that the number of stars on the genuine labels varied.

Witness: That is so.

On a previous occasion you had said that they did not?—Yes.

As a matter of fact, you know nothing about the actual printing except that you gave instructions?—Yes.

How many books were ordered?—Ten thousand.

How many sets of type were made up to print each page?—Only one.

Do you know that of your own knowledge?—Yes.

Further questions were put in regard to this, and witness said that one "block" was made to print one side of each sheet, there were two pages on each side.

Questioned in regard to double stitching, witness said that if a book was double-stitched because of some fault in the first stitching, the double holes would be observed on the two printed slips and the blank sheet of paper. In "Emma," the double stitching showed only on the last printed slip. Pages 1, 2, 7, and 8 of "Emma" were not printed at his shop.

ANOTHER SENSATION.

Another man having been brought from the Naval Yard, Tam Lay was re-called and asked if he had been working under the man produced. He denied it and said that the man was in another department.

Questions put to him in regard to a man named Chan Woon, disclosed the man's reluctance to give his number. After pressure he said that he had taken the place of Chan Woon at the Naval Yard, had adopted Chan Woon's number and had been impersonating Chan Woon.

POWER OF ATTORNEY.

The next witness was a Chinese named Chan Sam, who was able to speak in English. He said that he was introduced to Au Kim-lui, by Lam Fuk-yu, whom he had known for fifteen years. He knew Fok Chung-yuen (a defendant who absconded when on bail) a few months before he met Au. Fok and Lam took him to see Au Kim-lui with a view to his taking power of attorney for Au whilst he was away in Peking. It was stated to him that he would be largely responsible for the SOLICITOR PROSECUTES.

ALLEGED EXTENSIVE THEFTS.

In a case which Major C. Willson, described as serious, five charges were preferred against two Chinese at the Central Magistracy, this morning. The first was of stealing two silver pens, nine silver ear-picks, a pair of gold bangles, one gold chain with jadestone attachment, four gold rings, nine pieces of cloth, and $66 in Hongkong currency, on March 23rd. The second and third charges were of stealing one diamond ring and a ruby ring, set in platinum, on February 6th, the property of Mr. C. A. S. Russ, solicitor, and with recouping the same. The first defendant was further charged with stealing one roll of voile material on or about April 22nd, and the second with failing to give his correct name and address when pledging clothing at two pawnshops on March 23rd.

Mr. A. E. Hall appeared for the first defendant, and Mr. Russ was present as a complainant.

Giving evidence, Mr. Russ said on February 6th, two rings were left on a shelf at 6, D'Aguiar Street a tailor's shop, at about 5.30 p.m., by his wife. The loss of the rings was discovered at about eight o'clock, when witness was at Fanning. He caught the next train back the following morning and arrived at about 9.30 a.m. When he looked for the rings, he found they were not there. At the time the first defendant and the master were in the shop, and they denied all knowledge of the rings, so witness reported the matter. He could not say for certain whether he saw the second defendant or not.

Speaking with reference to any compensation for the pawnbroker who received the diamond ring, witness added that he would strongly oppose any suggestion of that sort that might arise. The ring, obviously a foreign one, was taken to the shop and was pawned for $30, and it was worth £80. It might never have been found had not the ticket been found in the possession of one of the defendants. The pawn-broker made no effort to inform the police, although they were making enquiries.

The case was remanded formally for a week, bail being refused.

DEBTS TO AMERICA.

THREE SETTLEMENTS APPROVED.

Washington, April 27.

A fifteen minutes' debate sufficed for the Senate to approve the Latvian debt settlement.

The Senate also approved the debt agreements with Estonia and Rumania.

Senator Reed, the chief spokesman for the opposition, declared it most probable that Latvia would again become part of Russia long before the sixty-two years laid down in the settlement had passed. He predicted that Britain would make the Italian debt settlement the basis of a demand for revision of the British debt agreement.

Senator Smoot replied that Britain had given assurances that she would not object to any settlement which the United States might make with other nations.

ELECTRIC CO. THEFTS.

EMPLOYEE SENT TO GAOL.

Stating that the Company wished to press the case as a warning to others, Mr. L. R. Andrews appeared to prosecute for the Hongkong Electric Company, before Major C. Willson at the Central Magistracy this morning, when a Chinese was charged with the theft of some copper plates.

Mr. Andrews explained that the plates were used in connection with electric light fittings. Such small thefts were continually taking place, and it was hard to detect the offenders. Naturally when the Company did catch one, they wanted it to act as a deterrent to others.

The defendant admitted the charge, and was sent to prison for one month, with hard labour.

civil action which had been instituted to recover $50,000 from the Wing On Company.

Before the adjournment for fifth, witness stated that he went with Lam to see Ho Cheuk-pang at the Bank of East Asia with a view to borrowing two or three thousand dollars for the purposes of the civil action which was pending.

The case is proceeding.

A FIRM'S DEBTS

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST A CHINESE.

The story of the contemplated
sale of a firm without the consent of the other partners was related at the Central Magistracy yesterday when Chau Sul-hin was charged with making false statements to the Official Receiver relating to the affairs of the Wing Shing Shung firm, 10 Shing Street.

He was further charged with falsifying, destroying, mutilating or concealing certain account books. There were five counts in all.

Mr. E. S. C. Brooks, who prosecuted, said defendant and the two complainants were the partners in the Wing Shing Shung firm. Complainants lived in Canton, and only visited the firm
in Hongkong about once a year.
They last visited it about February 1925, and defendant carried on the business in their absence.

At the end of 1925 defendant entered into a scheme to sell the business entirely on his own responsibility. Notice of the sale, which was to be completed by February 9, was given, and early this year defendant destroyed the important books of the firm.

Alleged Collusive Petition.
The other partners came down and remonstrated with the defendant, but failed to get satisfaction, and a notice was issued that the sale would not be valid. A bankruptcy petition was then presented against the firm and an interim receiving order was made.
The making of the order was delayed by Mr. Brooks asking for an adjournment in the Bankruptcy Court.

He suggested that the bankruptcy petition was a collusive
one between the petitioning creditor and the defendant.

He further suggested that the petitioning creditor's debt and others in the books of the firm were fictitious.

The Official Receiver gave evidence, and said defendant made certain statements at a meeting of creditors. Witness produced a list of the statements made, on which the charges were based.

A partner in the firm said he had examined the books of another firm and found that $9,500 had not been paid to them by his own firm. He could also find no record of another payment which defendant had stated had been paid.

The case was adjourned until May 4.

SHANGHAI "INCIDENT."

ATTEMPT TO ARREST SOVIET
VICE-CONSUL

A lively incident is developing out of the issuance of a warrant
by the Mixed Court at Shanghai for the arrest of Soviet Vice-Consul Minsky who, according to police statements at the Court,
cannot be served with the warrant because he is hiding at the Soviet Consulate. The latest development in the case is that the Soviet Consul at Shanghai, Mr. F. V. Linde, has sent a note of protest to the Doyen of the Shanghai Consular Body.

According to the note published in the New Shanghai Life, the local Bolshevik newspaper, the Soviet Consul challenges the right of the Mixed Court to arrest Minsky and protests against the attempts of the Mixed Court "to define the rights of the U.S.S.R.
Consuls in China." The Consul claims that even private Soviet citizens do not come under the jurisdiction of the Mixed Court
according to his interpretation of the treaties.

Translation of Note:
A translation of the note reads:
"From the reports of the local Shanghai Mixed Court, dated April 13, 1926, I learn that already on March 26 of this year the above mentioned institution issued a warrant for the arrest of my Vice-Consul, citizen Minsky."

"I further learn from these reports that since that time the warrant has been in the care of a man named Kedrolivansky, who was formerly a rebel against U.S.S.R.
but is now a member of the local Police. From personal conversations which I had with you on April 14, I gathered that the warrant was signed by the youngest Assessor of the above mentioned
institution, i.e. citizen Whitmore, without you, as Doyen of the Consular Body, having been specially informed."

"On the same day the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs of the Chinese Republic in the Province of Kiangsu informed me personally that he first learned of the existence of this order from me,
and that nobody had reported this matter to him, notwithstanding the fact that the Mixed Court comes under his direct control."

"From the above it follows that the order for the arrest of the Vice-Consul of U.S.S.R., citizen
Minsky, was issued without previous notification having been given to the doyen of the Consular Body or the official representative of the Chinese Republic."

No Notification.

"In view of the above I have the honour to inform you of the following:—

"The law existing in every civilized country stipulates that in cases of local authorities filing a complaint against an official person of another country, due notification is always given to the representative of the country to which the accused belongs."

"Neither I, the Ambassador of U.S.S.R. to China—Citizen Kara-khan—nor even the representative of the Chinese Republic in the Province of Kiangsu have been informed of the proposed arrest of Vice-Consul Minsky. When it is taken into consideration that citizen Minsky possesses a diplomatic passport issued to him by the People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs of U.S.S.R. such action becomes perfectly incomprehensible. Thus those who issued the order for Minsky's arrest deprived the only competent authorities in China from adopting adequate measures for the protection of the interests of an official representative of U.S.S.R."

Mixed Court's Powers.

"I must energetically protest against all attempts that may be made by the Shanghai Mixed Court, to define the rights of the U.S.S.R. Consuls in China. Such definition may be undertaken only by the representative of my Government and the Government
of the Chinese Republic in the manner prescribed by these two countries."

"The foregoing should have been taken more seriously into consideration, as my government has pointed out on several occasions to the Mixed Court that even private citizens of U.S.S.R. do not come under the jurisdiction of the Mixed Court, by virtue of the treaties existing between my government and China."

"Consuls of U.S.S.R. are representatives to the local authorities of the Chinese Republic and not to the authorities of the Sovie-ment."

A FASCIST GATHERING.

ANOTHER TYPICAL ORATION.

Milan, April 27.
In torrential rain, over 50,000
Fascists assembled in the Cathedral Square last night to pay homage to Signor Mussolini, whom they most enthusiastically ovated.
Mussolini appeared on the balcony surrounded by local notables.
Referring to the downpour, he remarked, "I believe you would stand with the same impassivity
under fire." He concluded, "Bullets pass, O Blackshirts, and Mussolini remains." (Deafening cheers).—

SHORT MEASURE.

MILKMAN ORDERED TO PRISON.

"It is impossible to serve milk
out of a can and give proper measure," said Alfred Whitworth Fowler, the son of a milkman, in the Chancery Division recently.

Mr. Justice Eve: Are you not ashamed to say that in this court?

No answer was given.
Mr. Gover, K.C., had moved for a writ of attachment against Alfred Fowler, senior, of Wool-wich-road, Greenwich, for a breach of an undertaking not to sell milk
to the customers of a retail milk business which he had sold to Simon Drew for £200.

Drew complained that Fowler supplied milk to his son, Alfred Whitworth Fowler, who sold it to Drew's customers.

Mr. Justice Eve said that the elder Fowler stated that he had ceased to carry on business as a milk retailer apart from selling milk over the counter and supplying it wholesale to his son.

His evidence was tainted with imaccuracy which it was impossible to attribute to forgetfulness.
It was wilfully untrue.

"The disreputable son," proceeded the judge, "took out several gallons of milk each morning to sell on account of his father."

Systematic Short Measure.
"His father got such profits as were legitimately earned from the sale of the milk, and the son has had the effrontery in a court of justice to get up and say that he made the profit for himself by systematically giving to customers short measure in the milk supplied."

"A man who comes to Court and says that without any feeling of shame must not be surprised if no credence is given to anything he has said."

"In dealing with persons like these I have no feelings of mercy towards them. I must make the order for the commitment of the father."

"I noticed that he quitted the court in the course of his counsel's argument, seemingly afraid counsel was making no impression. I saw him hastily leave, but someone will go for him."

"When it is considered that the order was issued on March 26,
and has not been executed up to the present, I conclude that those who issued the order were, not guided by motives for the preservation of order. On the contrary, by having entrusted a former rebel of U.S.S.R.—citizen Kedrolivansky
—with the execution of this order, an absolutely prohibited political demonstration has been enacted."

No Restricted Rights.

"In view of the above, I must inform you that my Government will not agree to any limitations of the rights granted to her consular agents in Shanghai as a result of actions by the Mixed Court,
the jurisdiction of which we do not recognize."

"Such attempts, as the foregoing unlawful actions, threaten the normal international relations and place serious responsibility on those who respect them."

"On considering the seriousness of the present conflict, I have no doubt you will inform me of those steps taken by you with the object of avoiding similar encroachments
by the judicial and police authorities on the rights of U.S.S.R.
Consulates."

"At the same time I retain the right to approach you again on this matter after the receipt of instructions from my Ambasador."

HOME FOOTBALL.

THE CLOSING OF THE SEASON.

[By "Wanderer."]

It is one of the principal attractions of professional football in England, that whatever has already been settled, there is always some problem of relegation or promotion which is held in abeyance until the last match of the season.

Nearly a month ago it was settled that Huddersfield would take the Premier Championship to Yorkshire for the third successive season, a record unparalleled in the competition even including the days when Preston could indeed be called proud. Since then Mr. Chapman, last year manager of the Huddersfield team, but who migrated to the Arsenal at the beginning of the present season, has placed his new club in the position of runners-up.

At the other end of the picture we find Notts County doomed to spend at least one season in the Second Division, and three clubs, including one of the Cup Finalists, and the famous Burnley club struggling to avert similar disaster.

The bottom positions are:

Manchester City	41	12	11	18	87	35
Leeds United	41	13	8	20	60	76
Burnley	41	12	10	19	81	107
Notts C.	41	12	7	22	50	72

Saturday's matches in which these sides are involved are as follows:

Leeds U. v. Tottenham.
Burnley v. Cardiff.
Newcastle v. Manchester.

If all three win, Burnley with that century of goals in the First Division, yet a few seasons ago yet unsurpassed, that of going through thirty successive games without defeat. The real issue lies between Burnley and Manchester City since Leeds should find little difficulty in defeating Tottenham.

THE SECOND DIVISION.

After being cheated by fate last season Derby County have this year made certain of recovering their old position in the First Division, and they are accompanied to higher circles by old companions, The Wednesday of Sheffield. Both have had remarkable success in a season when ups and downs have visited most every club.

At the bottom Stockport have of necessity to re-join the Third Division North, and two London clubs and Stoke are fighting to avoid a similar fate.

The positions read:

Fulham	41	10	12	19	44	77
Clapton	41	11	9	21	48	61
Stoke	41	12	7	22	52	76
Stockport	41	7	9	25	48	93

The last matches concerning these clubs follow:

Fulham v. Bradford C.
Middlebros v. Clapton.
Stoke v. Southampton.
It is to be feared that the Orient will find its place in the Southern Section of the third division.

THIRD DIVISION (SOUTH).

The struggle for promotion in the Third Division (South) has provided one of the features of the season's football. Plymouth went away with a rush and when Christmas arrived had suffered defeat on only one occasion. Consistent Reading, however, kept on their heels, and when the Plymouth debacle came in the early part of the New Year, followed by Reading's victory at Plymouth, the Biscuit team went ahead, and maintained their position until Saturday last. Millwall looked to be a third danger until their defeat by Exeter, followed by their defeat yesterday by Northampton. Saturday's matches which will decide the issue are:

Reading v. Brentford.
Gillingham v. Plymouth.
The positions read:

Plymouth	41	24	8	9	107	65
Reading	41	22	11	8	70	61
Millwall	41	21	10	11	87	62
Bristol C.	41	21	9	11	71	61

Queen's Park Rangers have had a very poor season and with either

THE SHIELD FINAL.

Sir.—Regarding the letter by "Sport," in your issue of the 23rd instant, as to why the East Surrey did not stop for the presentation of the shield and cup, I should like to point out that after playing the match and getting soaked to the skin, they did the only sensible thing by going away and having a good bath. It would have been sheer idiocy to hang about. Good health comes even before good sportsmanship.—Yours, etc.

KOWLOON CLUB'S PRESENTATION OF PRIZES.

Prizes won during the year in the various tournaments held by the Kowloon Chess Club, were presented at the Central British School yesterday. Prior to the distribution a series of matches was played between teams contained respectively by Mr. C. Sequeira, the Champion of the Colony and Mr. D. Carvalho, the Club champion, resulting in a victory for the latter's team, by three games to two.

Mr. G. F. Nightingale, president of the Club, said that the meeting marked the completion of what he thought was a very successful season, during which the Colony Championship, which had been in abeyance for some years, had been revived. During the course of the tournament some very close games were witnessed, and it was necessary for two triangular games to be played before the runner-up was decided.

Mr. Nightingale congratulated Mr. Sequeira and Mr. Hayes, who he said worked very strenuously to obtain second place. The competition was largely due to the generosity of the S. C. M. Post, in presenting a splendid cup to be competed for, and Mr. Sequeira was to be congratulated on being the first holder.

The tournaments held were instrumental in raising the standard of play among the members. The League.

Arrangements were being made to revive the Chess League, and it was hoped that there would be entries from the University, Lutheran Club, Kowloon Chess Club, and probably, St. Stephen's College and St. Paul's College, and possibly the Central British School would enter a team.

In conclusion, Mr. Nightingale thanked all the prize donors, and said he could foresee a long life for the Kowloon Chess Club. He also complimented the committee on the success of the season.

Following the distribution, Mr. J. Smith thanked Mr. Nightingale for giving away the prizes, and said that in his remarks he had omitted to thank himself for the cup he had presented for the Club tournament.

The list of winners is as follows: Championship of the Colony, and S. C. M. Post Cup.—Winner, C. Sequeira; runner-up, S. Hayes. Club Championship and President's Cup.—Winner, D. Carvalho; runner-up, H. Randall. Club Handicap.—Winner, W. Paterson (Hon. Treasurer's Cup); runner-up, Rev. J. H. Johnston (Hon. Secretary's Cup).

M. Dmitri Jaanovici, the Rumanian engineer, who has arrived from New York, hopes to interest the British Government in a scheme for diverting the warm waters of the Gulf Stream and the icy waters of the Arctic Current. He claims he could provide a better climate and

GAMBLING IN THRONES.

EX-KAISER'S HALF-MILLION OFFER.

When Troitsch Lincoln, after serving three years imprisonment for forgery, was deported, seven years ago, and "pitchforked into Germany," the penniless outcast conceived the daring idea of a plot to put Prince Rupert on the throne of Germany.

This plan found immediate favour with the Kaiser, who, receiving him at Doorn, offered him $500,000 if his revolutionary enterprise was carried out.

The part played by the ex-M. P. for Durlington in the desperate monarchist rising is one of the many thrilling adventures and desperate gambles with fate and fortune now to be revealed to the public for the first time.

Lincoln has undertaken to write his amazing life story exclusively for The Sunday News. He will tell of the part he has played in wars, risings and conspiracies in Continental and Far Eastern countries, his own perils and escapes, his financial ventures, and his refuge in a Buddhist monastery.

The first instalment of these amazing confessions of all that has happened in seven crowded years appeared in a recent issue of The Sunday News.

The health return for yesterday shows one case each of typhoid fever and diphtheria. Both

ALREADY FINED?

DEFENDANT RAISES A QUERY.

A most extraordinary statement was made by the owner of a house in Shanghai Street, when he was charged at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with failing to repair a defective water pipe at the rear of the premises.

When the case was called and the defendant informed of the charge, he declared that he had appeared before the Magistrate the previous week and was fined $10 on the same summons.

His Worship referred to the depositions and informed the defendant that a note had been made to the effect that he was absent last Wednesday and the case was then adjourned till this morning. His Worship intimated that the defendant had probably been fined on another summons.

The defendant replied that he had had only received one summons.

After consultation with the chief clerk, his Worship adjourned the summons for another week for investigations to be made.

SARAWAK VISIT.

ality and sentiment, of course, but he is wise enough to realise that if outside commercial interests became predominant in his territory he might share the fate of the Sultans of the Federated Malay States, who "accept the advice" of the British Residents in all matters save those of religion and custom, and whose territories have become so important in the markets of London and New York that they could not now be allowed independence even if they wished it. In Sarawak, foreign capital is accordingly not encouraged, and the father of the present Rajah was even opposed to immigration. However, he found that the Dyaks were too lazy to develop the country themselves, and the trade of Sarawak is now almost entirely in the hands of the ubiquitous Chinese.

There are practically no foreign-owned rubber properties in the country, and it is that fact which makes Mr. Firestone's visit interesting. Rajah Brooke might not want British capital, but American dollars are a different story, and it is possible that Mr. Firestone may be able to come to some arrangement with him. If he does, he will be lucky, for the virgin jungles of Sarawak contain some of the finest rubber land in this Archipelago, and the land would certainly be cheaper than in Malaya or the Dutch Indies. According to a telegram to hand last night, the Sarawak Government, officially denies strong rumours of a large concession to the Firestone interests in Sarawak.

"GLOBE TROTTERS."

SEASON BEGINS ON FRIDAY.

That popular company of entertainers, Dick Norton's "Globe Trotters," will commence a short season at the Star Theatre on Friday next. It had originally been intended to open on Thursday, but owing to steamer delay, arrangements have been put back a day.

Mr. Norton desires us to state that Mrs. Dick Norton and Miss Betty Norton are with the company, there having been rumours that they would not visit Hongkong on this occasion. Owing to a large number of requests having been received, there will be a matinee at 5.30 p.m. on Sunday. During the season, the popular "Prospects" song will be repeated.

CALCUTTA UNREST.

MORE STREET FIGHTING.

Calcutta, April 27. Sporadic cases of assault and street fighting continue. The known casualties to-day were 10 killed and 15 injured.

SPANISH FLIGHT.

AIRMAN REACHES HANOI.

A telegram received in the Colony this morning from Macao states that Captain Loriga, one of the Spanish flyers bound from Madrid to Manila, has arrived at Hanoi. The next hop will be to Macao, or possibly Canton.

No news is to hand regarding Captain Gallarza, the other Spanish airman, who arrived at Saigon with Captain Loriga.

MANILA ARRANGEMENTS.

The executive international committee at Manila has prepared the programme for the parade to take place from Camp Nichols to the Cathedral in honour of the Spanish flyers as follows:

1. Police force on motorcycles.
2. Members of the Executive Committee.
3. Members of the International Committee.
4. Spanish Committee.
5. National Supreme Council Committee.
6. Spanish Consul, Governor General delegate, and Captain Loriga.

7. Mayor of the City of Manila, delegate of the American army, Philippine division, and Captain Gallarza.

8. Automobiles be-decked with American, Filipino and Spanish flags, conveying the 50 ladies chosen by the committee to greet the Spanish aces, headed by Mrs. Gutierrez Repide.

9. Automobiles of all those who want to take part in the parade.

The Philippine Constabulary band will be on hand at the Cathedral awaiting for the aviators, and on their arrival, will play the Spanish, American and Filipino national anthems.

The day following their arrival in Manila, the Spanish fliers will pay their respects to Governor General Wood and later visit the offices of the insular government.

All vessels anchored in Manila Bay and in the Pasig river, will

HOTEL BOA VISTA.

MACAO HOSTELRY TO BE REOPENED.

Old residents will doubtless remember the erstwhile popularity of the Hotel Boa Vista, Macao; and will therefore welcome the announcement that, after a long period during which it has been used as a school, it is to be reopened as a modern residential establishment.

The old building has been reconstructed and provided with every modern convenience, including flush system, and will be under the management of Messrs. A. Leong Hing Kee. It is ideally situated on a hill overlooking pleasant scenery, and each room has its own verandah.

For the convenience of guests desiring to spend week-ends at Macao, it has been arranged that booking may be made at the Hotel Metropole, Hongkong, where steamer reservations can also be made.

A motor service will be provided to convey guests from the steamer wharf to the hotel, and attention to other necessary details will ensure the comfort of patrons.

With the splendid steamer service between Hongkong and our neighbouring Portuguese Colony, this enterprise should be greatly appreciated by residents who desire a pleasant week-end holiday.

"dress" for the arrival of the aces.

A circular letter issued by Collector Aldanese of the bureau of customs, says: "In order to fittingly honour the arrival of the Elcano Air Squadron, it is the desire of this office, that masters of all vessels in Manila Bay and the Pasig river, dress their ships from 8 o'clock on the morning of their arrival, until sunset of the same day, which will be announced later. The vessels will blow their sirens a few minutes following the whistle of the government ice plant siren, announcing the arrival of the squadron. The cooperation of all masters of vessels, is earnestly requested."
